

Tracy Bell

Subject Matter Expert

Mr. Bell is an IT Project Manager at PCG with a background in human services solutions for state and local governments. In this role, he analyzes and plans strategies to complete projects—managing timelines, budgets, resources, and deliverables. Mr. Bell works with agency executives, analysts, tech writers, and other subject matter experts to coordinate business efforts and respond to the needs related to all project-related endeavors.

Expertise

- Information technology
- Project management
- Strategy and analysis
- Remote/virtual solutions
- Business leadership

Experience

Mr. Bell joined PCG in November 2018 with over 15 years of experience in human services. Prior to joining PCG, he served as Vice President of Business Development for Maximus. Mr. Bell also served as Chief Officer of Workforce Development Employment and Transformation for the Tennessee Department of Human Services. In that role, he oversaw daily operations for Human Services programs, such as Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF), the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), Child Support, Workforce Development, and system development.

Professional Networks

Mr. Bell is a volunteer Advisory Council Member for Human Services at the Kresge Foundation. He is also affiliated with the American Public Human Services Association (APHSA), Ascend Aspen Institute, and Leadership for a Networked World, to name a few.

Education

Mr. Bell earned his Bachelor of Science degree in Computer Science from Mississippi Valley State University with a minor in Mathematics.

To learn more about our human services subject matter experts, please contact us today.

 (800) 210-6113

 www.publicconsultinggroup.com

 info@pcgus.com